

International Gaming Awards announces new judge for Socially Responsible category

THE International Gaming Awards (IGA) is proud to announce Stella Dalton, Head of Business Development at Gamcare, as a new judge on the prestigious panel.

The Socially Responsible Operator award for both the online and land based category will allow Stella Dalton to provide her expertise and knowledge in both hugely competitive sectors. As a Responsible Gambling specialist, she will interweave her experience and working within the industry towards selecting a deserving winner.

GamCare is the leading provider of information, advice, support and free counselling for the prevention and treatment of problem gambling.

Details about Stella Dalton, alongside other established and respected individuals can be found on the Judges page of the International Gaming Awards site along with our other outstanding judges at <http://www.gaming-awards.com/judges.htm> - THE IGA JUDGES.

The International Gaming Awards is now entering its fifth year; it is hoping to once again attract even more leaders from the global gambling industry, making it the only event that combines both land-based and online gambling awards. The anticipated 5th International Gaming Awards (IGA) takes place on the 23rd January 2012 at the extravagant Sheraton Park Lane Hotel in London. The sparkling and anticipated event will see industry professionals under one roof, where they will be able to share gaming knowledge and network throughout the night.

Nominations are now open and free to enter till the 18th October and categories and entry form can be seen here: <http://www.gaming-awards.com/CATEGORIES.htm>

Be a part of the biggest evening for the gambling industry, network, celebrate and offer hospitality at the only event that offers you the glamour and style of the Oscars for the entire industry.
